CHARLES SUTER IS INSTANTLY KILLED AT BELLAIRE, O.

MOTOR CAR JUMPED TRACK AND KNOCKED DOWN MINE SUPPORTS.

VICTIM A NEWARK YOUNG MAN

Three Others Injured in Accident
Which Occurred Tuesday Evening.

Charles Suter, a young man well and favorably known here, was killed Tuesday evening, about 5 o'clock at Bellaire by the caving in of the Bellaire Steel Works mine, caused by a motor car in the mine jumping the track and knocking down the mine supports. Mr. Suter was the only person instantly killed, but three others of the injured are said to be past saving. Their names are Joseph Pennmen, Harry Shuckman and John Balabridge.

Young Mr. Suter was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Suter, of 62 High street; his brothers, Warren of the Franklin National bank, and Norton of the First National bank, and his sister, Miss Katherine, being very well known about the city.

The unfortunate man was 26 years of age, single, and has been away from Newark for five years, returning at frequent intervals to visit his parents, brothers and sister here. He was last in the city in August when he was in the employ of the big House & Herman department stores at Wheeling, where he had been for some time. His relatives here knew nothing of his having changed his occupation to that of engineer for the Carnegie Steel company until they were informed of his death. In fact they had received no word from him for about ten days.

The message announcing the sad news to the family, arrived at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, and Mr. Warren Suter left at 8 o'clock for Bellaire and is expected to return with the remains of his brother in the evening.

Mr. Suter was a member of Co. G, First Ohio V. L. A. in the Spanish-American war; of Cedar Camp 4727, Modern Woodmen; Bellaire Lodge, K. of P. and of the Second M. E. church of Bellaire, where a short service was held Wednesday afternoon. The coroner's inquest was held on Wednesday morning.

The hour of the funeral has not been decided upon.

SURPRISE

Was Handed Ruff When Schmitz Announced "Ready For Trial"— Spreckels on the Stand.

San Francisco, Dec. 19.—Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz announced in court that he is ready for trial. This statement came apparently as a surprise to Abraham Ruef, who promptly leaned over and conferred in whispers with his attorneys.

Rudolph Spreckels was again on the stand. Attorney Ach questioned him at length concerning a street car system that Mr. Spreckels and his father contemplated building. The witness stated that he contemplated building a road because, as a citizen of San Francisco, he objected to seeing the streets of the city turned over to the United Railroads or any other corporation or person.

He was asked several questions to which objections were offered and sustained, whereupon Attorney Campbell announced that the motion was submitted and that his client was ready for trial.

"Is it understood now that the trial of these defendants is to be separate?" asked Hency.

"Yes," answered Attorney John J. Barrett.

BIG BOSTON BLAZE

Boston, Dec. 19.—Four hours' of hard fighting by the whole fire department, was necessary to subdue a fire this morning which threatened the entire shopping district. The fire broke out in the Studio building and spread to the Orpheum theatre and the Pratt building, slightly damaging the latter two. The loss is estimated at $300,000. Three firemen were injured by falling walls.

BIGELOW TALKS OF THE MESSAGE ABOUT PANAMA

SAYS EVERYBODY IN CANAL
ZONE WILL SMILE AT PRES-IDENT'S WORDS.

LIKE WALL STREET CIRCULAR

Declares Mr. Roosevelt's Statements Are Misleading—Observation on Taft Reservoir.

New York, Dec. 19.—Poultny Bigelow today gave out a statement regarding the President's message on Panama. He said:

"When the President can find a single resident of the canal zone who does not smile at his report, then it will be time enough for me to answer his misleading statements which read like the circular of a Wall street speculator, rather than the language of an American statesman.

"What, for instance, is gained by the President assuring us that the Taft reservoir is a success because he saw water in it? This reservoir was dry when most needed during the last dry spell. It will be dry again when the rains cease to fill it."

RICH MAN'S PANIC ON WALL STREET STOCK SLUMPING

New York, Dec. 19.—Throttled in the grip of a tight money squeeze, there was stock slumping on Wall street today and avirtual rich man's panic is in progress. Millions have already been lost in the six day crash which has forced many traders to the wall. With money on call at 25 per cent and no relief in sight, the pools throw over thousands of shares today to lighten the burden. The Vanderbilts and J. Pierpont Morgan rushed to the aid of the situation by announcing at noon today that interest payments on all of the bonded debt of the Vanderbilt systems due January 1 will be paid at once. The Standard Oil crowd is reported on the floor of the stock exchange to have advantage of the situation to pound the market and bring out the loosely held stocks. Compared with last Wednesday's closing, Great Northern has shown losses of 38 points and Northern Pacific 25. These two with Reading, are the leaders in the decline.

COULEE

Held the Dead Sisters, Clapsed In Each Other's Arms—Victims of November's Blizzard.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 19.—Clasped in each others arms, the bodies of Gertrude and Molythea Hoffman, aged 9 and 12 years respectively, have been found in a coulee just across the Canadian border, where they met in the November blizzard.

The victims were daughters of a Valley county, Montana, ranchman, and strolled more than miles from home across the international line in their efforts to evade the blizzard. The bodies were found by Mr. and Mrs. George M. Randall, who were forced to take shelter in the same coulee from another blizzard.

MISSING HEIRESS, HER HOME AND DOCTOR ACCUSED IN CASE.

MISS IDA
MAY MILLER

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 19.—The remarkable disappearance of Miss Ida May Miller, an heiress of whom no one but Dr. Rolando Kuehn knows the whereabouts, and whom she is said to have married and remembered in a will leaving him $500,000, is not to rest without further investigation. To add zest to the search proceedings will be at once instituted by Former Judge James Gay Gordon, on behalf of Mrs. Margaret Fraily, Miss Miller's cousin, to recover the half million dollar estate which Miss Miller inherited from her father. Mrs. Fraily has a legal standing under the will of Mr. Miller.

That the Miller family has had other skeletons in the past became known today with the discovery of the fact that Mrs. Miller, mother of the missing heiress, became insane some score of years back and that but husband in making his will inserted a clause to cover any possibility of his daughter becoming afflicted by inheriting the insanity.

THE MILLER HOME

Mrs. Fraily now declares that in her judgment the doctor has come forward to act under her cousin's will. Dr. Kuehn today indicated Mrs. Fraily's theories.

"The young lady will be at home in a few weeks," he said. "And then these people will see how ridiculous they have made themselves.

"We will be married soon after her return. I do not want her money. I only want her own sweet self. I could have married a princess, but I'd rather have this beautiful, charming girl."

It was alleged today that Kuehn's father and mother each died under a cloud of suspicion of insanity.

FIRED FINAL SHOT

Then the Man Accused of Robbery Sent Two Bullets Into His Own Head.

New York, December 19.—After being chased for nearly a mile through the East Side by policemen, William Madison, who was a private in the Seventy-first regiment during the Spanish-American war, shot and killed himself late yesterday afternoon in front of No. 6 Second street just when his pursuers were closing in on him. Several persons narrowly escaped being hit by bullets which the fugitives "pumped" to right and left during his wild run.

Madison was accused of having robbed a jewelry store in Mt. Vernon the preceding night. Samuel Reymier, a jeweler of Mt. Vernon, told Inspector McLaughlin that a strange man held him up at the closing hour last night and got away with valuable watches and jewelry. He looked through the Rogue's Gallery and then went on a still hunt through the East Side.

On Second street, near Houston street, Reymier spied a man who acted suspiciously. Sergeant Atwell, who was with Reymier, went up to him and asked him the time. The man said he had no watch, but he moved his right hand just enough to disclose some scratches.

"This is the man we want!" shouted Reymier.

Madison drew a revolver, shot at Atwell, then dashed across Houston street. He encountered a policeman in Elizabeth street, but dodged by him. Then he sped through Elizabeth street to Bleeker and on to the Bowery. From time to time he discharged his revolver and aroused the entire neighborhood. His pursuers, now numbering several hundred men and boys, were closing on him fast. On the Bowery he hesitated an instant as if bewildered. Suddenly he turned about, shot at the crowd once more, and then pressed the revolver to his own head and shot twice.

LIABILITY IS BIG

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 19.—Application was made to the Superior court today for the appointment of a receiver for the National Wire corporation operating a wire mill here. The liabilities are given as $2,000,000.

FRANCE IS UPHELD BY PROF. MAC VANE

Boston, Mass., Dec. 19.—The French government is strongly upheld in its present religious crisis by Prof. Silas MacVane, the chief authority on French history at Harvard. In a lecture last night, Prof. MacVane declared that at the bottom of the whole movement lies the feeling that the two greatest enemies of France, the Jesuits and the German emperor, are gradually drawing together. "The German emperor," he said, "is by no means averse to enlisting Rome on his side."

RUSSIAN PEASANTS FACE FAMINE

Washington, Dec. 19.—Russian wheat crop is 100,000,000 bushels short of the previous year's crop. The country has known during the last 20 years, according to reports made to the department of agriculture by its European agents. The rye crop is even more alarmingly small, being 74,000,000 bushels under that of 1905, and 354,000,000 bushels less than that of 1904.

CLAIMS OF FRENCH MONEY LENDERS THROWN OUT BY COURT'S VERDICT TODAY

Paris, Dec. 19.—Through a decision rendered today in the suit brought by the creditors against Count Boni De Castellane and his former wife, Anna Gould, the latter is freed from all responsibility for the debts contracted by her husband, except in a few minor instances.

Paris, Dec. 19.—The total debts with which Madame Gould is held responsible jointly with the Count, amount to 39,087 francs. Count Boni, according to the verdict, must pay 126,325 francs to usurers and also settle 450 other bills for furniture and goods. The claims of money lenders amounting to 1,905,655 francs, were thrown out completely by the court as without legal basis.

BISHOP M'CABE DIED TODAY.

BISHOP C. C. MCCABE

New York, Dec. 19.—Bishop C. C. McCabe of the Methodist church, died at this morning. He was stricken while on the street last week and was taken to a St. York hospital where he succumbed. Bishop McCabe was born at Athens, O., October 11, 1830. He served as chaplain during the Civil war and was in Libby prison four months. As secretary of the board of church extension, he added a half million dollars to its annual income. He became chairman of the American University at Washington.

Bishop McCabe's home was at the Hotel McManis Philadelphia.

HARRIS' CONFESSION IS NOT BELIEVED

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 19.—George W. Harris, who says he murdered Miss Sarah Schafer, has confessed to nearly all the crimes in the calendar. He is not believed by the authorities. It is claimed he served time in the Mansfield, Ohio, reformatory as Frank Barger. Deputy Prosecutor Davis has the full signed confession of Harris who pleaded guilty today to assault and battery with intent to kill and was sent to Michigan City from two to fourteen years.

SECRETARY TAFT SENDS A LETTER ON SOLDIER CASE

Washington, Dec. 19.—Accompanying the President's message to the Senate on the Brownsville affair this afternoon is a letter from Secretary Taft transmitting the data requested of the war department and the alleged "new evidence" submitted to the secretary on the Constitution league of the United States. The secretary says:

"I have examined the new evidence with care, and do not find anything contained in it that would lead to a different conclusion of fact from that stated in my annual report. The affidavits contain in substance the same denials of complicity or knowledge by the enlisted men made to the inspecting officers and together with evidence intended to show there was opportunity for persons not in the battalion to disguise themselves in cast off uniforms of enlisted men, and secure empty cartridge shells and throw them on the streets of the town."

The suggestion that a body of men sharing the hostility of the people of the town should use such means to have negro troops removed, Taft says is "so grotesque in its improbability and absurdity it hardly calls for discussion or comment." The secretary upholds vigorously the right of the President to discharge without honor any soldier not honest and faithful. Answering Foraker's argument that the President might discharge the entire army if he had the right to discharge a company, Taft says the order named each person discharged and the companies were not disbanded.

MRS. SAGE'S GIFT

New York, Dec. 19.—Mrs. Russell Sage has made a Christmas present of fifteen acres of land, valued at $300,000 to New York University. Chancellor MacCracken announced its acceptance. It is said that this is the beginning of the campaign of "safe and sane liberality" on the part of Mrs. Sage.

ENTOMBED MAN IS BECOMING DISCOURAGED.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 19.—Discouraged because rescuers have not reached him, L. B. Hicks, who has been buried in a mine more than two weeks is giving up hope of getting out alive.

Repeated wailings and moaning are heard through the long pipe down which food has been shoved to him, and down which sift strains of popular songs, done by a phonograph. The news of the day is read from the papers.

Until Tuesday Hicks has been uniformly cheerful. The only objection to his queer plight was that against an over zealous friend who started to read the president's message down the pipe.

TROUBLE ANTICIPATED.

Stuebenville, O., Dec. 19.—Armed guards have been brought to the Connersville mines on the W. & L. E. road, where the miners are on a strike because of failure to pay on the right days. Monday Superintendent Hornickel and his brother beat up the president of the miners' union and another miner who was called into a conference, because they would not order the miners back to work. At broadly last night the United States Coal company's office was destroyed by an incendiary fire. Trouble is looked for in the mining towns during Christmas week.

ROCK ISLAND WRECK

Hutchinson, Kansas, Dec. 19.—Rock Island passenger train No. 30 was thrown from the track at Tullison today. The whole train left the track and all but the engine turned over. At least twelve persons are injured, some of them seriously.

Eleven more female suffragists at London, Eng., should to spend Christmas in jail rather than pay small fines for creating disturbances in the precincts of the house of commons.

WOMEN, MISS AKINS SAYS IT'S ALL RIGHT SO, NOW, GO AHEAD

St. Louis, Dec. 19.—Miss Zoe Akins, a daughter of Assistant United States Treasurer T. C. Akins and author, a young woman of marked literary ability, in answer to Marie Corelli's criticism on the dress habits of American women, says:

"A great many women make up. It's a custom that is becoming more general every day. No one should complain against it. If a woman makes herself more comfortable and thinks she makes herself prettier by painting her face, penciling her eyebrows, padding her dress or wearing a wig, it's her own business—and if she is satisfied with herself, no one else has a right to complain.

"If some woman thinks powder improves her complexion she is right in using it. People in this world are given to worrying too much about what other people do. Let's do that which pleases and satisfies us.

"As to the men being aware of the source of some women's brilliancy, what matters it? There is no accounting for a man's reasons for loving a woman. It's up to the woman, and some of those who are adept in the art of make-up get along a great deal better than some others who are trading on nature's gifts.

"The one who wins nowadays in love and commerce is that skillful conversationalist who has the ability to listen at the right time. If you think you are a winner and you can make other people think you are a winner—that's all. You're a winner.

"The men are just as artificial as the women. The woman a man likes is the woman who knows how to wear her clothes, who knows how to make herself look pretty, and who has the ability to draw attention.

"Man's greatest delight is to arouse the envy of his male associates. If he can swell his average by appearing with a woman who has produced an 18-kara effect by the proper application of rouge and pads it doesn't worry him as to the means that brought about the ends.

"Men are more vain than women, but they are simply more skillful in hiding their vanity."

LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM

MR. PENGELLEY AND PROF. GOULD

WRITING EXPERTS WHO TESTIFIED IN LINGAFELTER CASES HERE AND IN MT. VERNON.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 19.—The fight between Dr. Leon McCollum, the disinherited son of Dr. J. J. McCollum, and his widow, who secured the bulk of the fortune is on here.

W. G. Pengelley, a handwriting expert from Columbus, testified that the signature to the note which Leon McCollum holds against his father's estate, is genuine.

H. D. Gould, Cleveland, an expert in the Chadwick case and G. W. Woods, Pittsburg, who was a witness in the Hartje divorce case, also testified. Mr. Pengelley and Gould are the two writing experts who testified in the Lingafelter cases at Mt. Vernon and Newark.

A sensation was sprung in the McCollum case when the defense completely surprised the other side by admitting the signature to the note in question to be genuine, but attacking the body of the instrument.

Professor Gould and George W. Woods, both testified that the note itself was made many years after the signature. They also testified that the note, excepting the signature, was in the writing of Dr. Leon McCollum, the plaintiff. The deposition of Orlando Miller, of Columbus, to the effect that the paper was not made until after 1884, the date of the note, was also placed in evidence.

An Awful Come Down For the Millionaire

HE rode up to his $2,000,000 residence, alighted from his $50,000 automobile, took out his $100 cigar case and lighted a weed that cost a dollar at wholesale.

After he had flicked an ash from his $100 suit, he adjusted his ten dollar necktie, gazed thoughtfully for a moment at his fifteen dollar shoes and then turned his face toward the $75,000 fountain in his front yard.

Finally he entered the gate, which was put up at a cost of $20,000, stopped a moment to admire the $50,000 worth of statuary standing on the grounds, and he was about to mount the steps of his mansion when his feet went up into the air, his ten dollar hat flew off, and he struck the ground with a thud that could have been heard half a block away.

"And to think," he moaned as he picked himself up, "that I slipped on the peeling of a banana that only cost about a cent!"

Even the millionaire has his troubles.

—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

New Greeting Among Congressmen.
They have a new salutation in the house committee rooms, writes a Washington correspondent of the New York World. It is "Dear Maria, how's Bellamy?"

An Apt Quotation.
"Yes," said Marryat, "I'm pretty busy these days. Getting ready for my wedding, you know."

"Ah, that's a reminder of what Washington said," remarked Hennipeck.

"What was that?"

"In times of peace prepare for war."—Boston Herald.

They say that feathers tickle," said little Willie Gray.

"But that ain't true, I tell you—Not always, anyway."

"Last week ma bought a bonnet—Paid forty plunks for it—

JOKE ON COPYRIGHT LAW.

Twain Attaches Autobiography to New Editions to Prevent Piracy.

Mark Twain has the copyright law beaten to a frazzle, according to a Washington special dispatch to the New York Times. He has concluded his labors as a "professional, unsalaried lobbyist" and has done his best to boom the copyright extension bill, but whether it is passed by congress or not does not personally worry Mark. He has devised a scheme which every cleverly and adroitly circumvents the provisions of the present copyright law.

By Mr. Clemens' plan he will be enabled to keep a copyright alive eighty-four instead of forty-two years. He considers that the present act robs an author's children in the interest of the publisher. For years Mark Twain has been at work on his autobiography, and he purposes to use parts of this to carry out his plan to beat the present copyright law.

As soon as the copyright expires on one of his books Mark Twain or his executors will apply for a new copyright on the book, with a portion of the autobiography run as a footnote. For example, when the copyright on "Tom Sawyer" expires, a new edition of that book will be published. On each page a rule will be run about two-thirds of the way down the page, and below these lines will be printed the autobiography, or so much of it as is designed for publication in that volume. About one-third of his new edition of "Tom Sawyer" will be autobiography, separated from the old text only by the rules or lines. The same course will be followed with each book as the copyright expires.

So far as possible the part of the autobiography will be germane to the book in which it appears. For instance, the part which is printed with "Innocents Abroad" will be mostly that section which relates to the trip of the Innocents and to Mark Twain's other European visits. The part printed with "Tom Sawyer" will be made up chiefly of Mark Twain's early life in the little Missouri town where he, the real Tom Sawyer, lived. The part printed with "Roughing It" will consist largely if not entirely of the author's life in the west.

All arrangements and provisions for the carrying out of this plan, which Mark Twain means as seriously as any man ever meant anything, have been made, and long after his death the autobiography will continue to appear in this form.

Of course it will not entirely prevent piracy, but Mark Twain figures that it will vitiate the sale of editions which do not contain the autobiography and make them worthless.

Motor Cars at St. Bernard's.

The monks of Great St. Bernard have at last induced the authorities—after many experiments—to permit them to bring up their supplies by motor cars, says the London Chronicle. But there is a condition attached. "Motor trucks may be used," says the official, "but under no circumstances may they be allowed to appear on the road without a team of horses attached; otherwise a serious panic may be caused among the horses and mules using the road." And now the sly monks are thinking of putting the cart before the horse.

Gentle Josh From Senator Dubois.

Senator Dubois of Idaho recently received a letter from a friend in New York inviting him to dinner and expressing many complimentary sentiments about the senator, says the New York World's Washington correspondent. The letter closed, "Trusting that you will believe me, your obedient," etc. The senator saw that the type-writer had omitted the comma after "will," but he also saw an opportunity for a gentle josh, so he replied, "Why should I believe you if you are scared at your own veracity?"

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HELP THE POOR

Salvation Army Given Permission to Ask Children to Donate Edibles for Xmas Baskets

Through the kindness of the Board of Education, the Salvation Army has been granted permission to collect provisions for the filling of the Xmas baskets through the children attending the public schools. And while we want to make it clear, no pressure is to be laid on any one, so that they feel that they have to give, yet we would ask every parent that would like to help us in this great effort, and would like to encourage their children in the spirit of generosity and a desire to help others in their time of need, to let your boy and girl have the pleasure of contributing something toward this great Christmas charity.

We do not ask them to contribute money, but what we want is canned fruit, corn, beans, tomatoes, potatoes and turnips, and other edibles. We want to be able to give out from our hall 500 free Christmas dinners in baskets, providing a good dinner for any who may be in need on this memorable day, and we would not leave out the children.

We want on New Year's day to give a real treat to a hundred poor children with gifts of shoes, stockings and clothing, and a Christmas tree with toys and candy.

Help us to make these little ones glad. Remember, we make no difference in creed, color or nationality, and we shall be glad to investigate and help any poor family you may know or be concerned about.

We remain yours in behalf of the needy, Capt. and Mrs. Wilson. 2t

The total number of cross ties purchased by the steam railroads of the United States during 1905, was more than 377,000,000. Averaging them as six feet long each they would, if laid end to end in a line, extend around the world three and a half times, with some to spare.

POLO.

The Dennison Polo team will play the local poloists on the Palace Rink floor tomorrow night. This team is a strong aggregation. Last week they handed defeat to the Coshocton polo team, and this puts them on their feet in good shape as the Coshocton team is as strong as any team in this section of the state.

Saturday night the Utica team will play another game here.

A SEA GATE MEMORIAL.

President Butler's Suggestion For a Robert Fulton Monument.

The Robert Fulton monument may take the form of a sea gate, says the New York Times. President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, who is a member of the monument association, has declared himself in favor of this plan, and the committee in charge is preparing to discuss it. Richard Delafield, president of the National Park bank and treasurer of the monument association, made this announcement recently.

"Dr. Butler seems to be of the opinion that it would be a very good thing if possible to establish a sea gate in connection with the monument and tomb, where distinguished foreign visitors coming by sea could land in the upper part of New York and not be compelled to traverse the lower part of the congested business district. This sea gate could also be used by the different yacht clubs and steamers paying a small amount for the privilege, which sum would go to make up the fund to insure the monument proper attention."

Mr. Delafield also announced that Governor Elect Hughes had consented to act on the site committee of the association.

BIG TEMPLE IN CHICAGO

Church, University and Dormitory at Cost of $5,000,000.

TO OCCUPY ALMOST ENTIRE BLOCK

Unique Scheme of Dr. George F. Hall
Involves Erection of an Eighteen Story Building to Be Devoted to Religious, Educational, Lodge and Social Purposes—Some Matrimonial Business Too.

Dr. George F. Hall, "the business man preacher," who for the last five years has been pastor of the Bush Temple Independent Christian church in Chicago, without a salary, has planned a vision that he says will come true. A "$5,000,000 temple," comprising church, university and dormitory departments, will be started the 1st of May, Dr. Hall says, on a site bordering on Lincoln park. The plans have been drawn by two Chicago architects and are at Dr. Hall's office, says the Chicago Tribune.

Dr. Hall's worldly vocation is president of the Chicago-Texas Land and Lumber company. He has lived in Chicago the greater part of twenty-two years. The plans were recently made public by Dr. Hall in an address before the Social Economics club.

"My ultimate desire is to establish a great church and to give young men and women who work—that is, business men and women—advantages of proper social, intellectual and religious surroundings," he said. "Moral uplift in the slums is almost impossible. This institution will not be a charity institution and will not deal in slum work.
Nor will it be a profit sharing affair.
A New York firm has agreed to take the entire amount of bonds, myself retaining a controlling interest."

The building is to be eighteen stories above ground, with four basement floors, and will occupy almost an entire block. It will be fireproof and faced with Wisconsin granite. Dr.
Hall says he expects to dedicate the edifice Thanksgiving day, 1908.

The building is to be divided as follows:

First floor—Bank, twenty miscellaneous stores, cafe, auditorium.

Second to sixth floors, inclusive—
Hall university, with a capacity for 15,000 students, planned greatly after the Carnegie Institute, with medical, law and night schools included.

Floors seven to sixteen—Dormitories that will accommodate 7,000 persons—3,500 rooms—to be rented for $2.50 and $3 a week. No married people will be housed. Certain floors will be for women and others for men.

Floor seventeen—Dining room.
Floor eighteen—Sleeping apartment for building employees.

Basement—Gymnasium, banquet hall that will seat 3,000, manual training school, kitchens, storage, heat and ice plants and private waterworks supplied by artesian wells.

The auditorium will seat 12,000, with a choir loft for 600 and orchestra box for fifty persons. The immense pipe organ will cost $100,000. The dome of the auditorium will reach the sixth floor. The entire court here will be a roof garden. Theaters will not be countenanced, the establishment being conducted on strict religious principles, but there will be weekly entertainments of musical and intellectual nature.

Dr. Hall will receive no salary further than interest on his bonded investment. He will be a chancellor and will preach each Sunday. Card parties and dancing will not be permitted, but there will be twelve lodge halls and numerous parlors for social diversion.
Floating above the building will be banners bearing church mottoes.

Dr. Hall expects to do quite a matrimonial business, although that feature will be encouraged only by modest gatherings the social life will occasion. Dr. Hall's study will be on the second floor. After the twenty year bonds are paid off Dr. Hall says all profits of the concern will be used for church and mission purposes.

Dr. Hall has no fear but that the rooms will be occupied readily by desirable young people. All details have been figured out to a fine degree. As to the population of Chicago, with which the institution will deal, Dr.
Hall cited that in the city there are 17,000 bookkeepers, 30,000 stenographers, 5,000 musicians, besides innumerable clerks and counting house employees.

"I have been at work on the undertaking for many years," said Dr. Hall.
"The ambition of my life is to see it realized."

Missouri Negroes' Self Improvement.

Missouri negroes are in nearly every small town organizing clubs and associations and meeting to discuss in a careful and temperate way problems affecting their business and social life.
says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. A meeting arranged in Columbia by Professor J. B. Coleman and his co-teachers in the Fred Douglass negro school is one of the many that have been held.
There is a large and well defined movement among Missouri negroes looking toward self improvement.

the children and make bully lard-

THAT WATER WORKS "NOTICE" RESOLUTION

Ridicule is abroad over that resolution rushed through the City Council Monday night, providing for the publication of a "notice" in a Columbus newspaper in behalf of the proposed waterworks bond issue and providing also for the payment of the cost of the same out of the city treasury.

And there is amusement, too, that the air of assumption and presumption so much in evidence in certain circles during the early part of yesterday, has so greatly modified today. It is a case of hasty evolution, as it were, and there are evidences of efforts in the way of shifting responsibility for the council's action. Certain parties do not want to be held responsible for inspiring the resolution.

One member who voted for the resolution claims to have been misled by misrepresentation, the claim being made to him that the Newark papers had "refused to print the articles that had been furnished them containing arguments favoring the bond issue."

So far as The Advocate is concerned any such statement or representation is absolutely false.

But The Advocate hopes that the resolution will be carried out to the letter. By all means, gentlemen, have your "notice," which it is presumed will be in the shape of arguments for the bond issue, printed in some Columbus newspaper and pay for the cost of the same out of the city treasury. Don't balk at such a trivial objection as the illegality of such an appropriation of city funds.

Furthermore, gentlemen, when you thus present your "notice," or arguments, in a Columbus newspaper for the edification of Newark voters, please also enlighten them as to why you failed, by neglect or refusal, to give the Newark people an opportunity to vote on the question, like the school board did, at the late general election, when all the people could have voted upon it. Let the people know all the facts.

The experiment of hiring a Columbus newspaper to advance a Newark project and paying the cost of it out of the Newark city treasury may prove to be a wonderful educator for aspiring local politicians of the city in need of an organ, and this of itself is a reason of vital importance for carrying out the resolution to the fullest extent.

Peace is again said to reign in Warsaw and in Poland generally, but it has been attained only by a resort to the same old bloody methods so often employed in that unhappy land by the Russian tyrants. Many Poles have been tried by summary court-martial and executed as soon as condemned, and the nation is prostrate for the moment. Nevertheless the effect of the cruelty, it is said, has been to unite all parties and they are preparing to act together in the election of members of the duma. In time to come it may well be that the Polish members of that body, may, by biding their opportunity, as have the Irish members of the British parliament, do much for their country.

On January 1 many farmers will sell their products in Chicago direct to consumers without the intervention of any middlemen. They have formed an association known as the American Society of Equity, which will have an agency in Chicago to handle their products. The members of the Chicago Federation of Labor are expected to patronize this agency. No doubt there will be many other customers if the quality of the goods and their prices prove satisfactory. The farmers expect to reap more profits for their products than they have secured under the present system. They claim that the middlemen have absorbed nearly all the profit. If the new scheme proves a success it will no doubt be extended to embrace the whole country. In such a case the products of the farms ought to sell for less and still return a larger profit than at present to the farmers.

ADJUDGED INSANE

Sad Case of Mrs Carrie Loar Pratt Before Judge Brister Wednesday in Probate.

On affidavit of S. M. Pratt, Mrs. Carrie Loar Pratt, a well known woman of this city, was adjudged insane by Probate Judge Brister. The woman is aged about 52 years and was sent to Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, about 10 years ago, for treatment. About two weeks ago it was first noticed that something was the matter with her, as she was not natural in her actions, and the conclusion was arrived at that her mind was affected. Since that time she has rapidly grown worse until her condition finally became such that it was not deemed safe to leave her alone, as her mania was of a suicidal turn. For some days she has talked incessantly, and calling everyone she knew to the phone. She imagines that she is a talented writer and on Tuesday tried to kill herself with a knife. She was taken to Columbus Wednesday afternoon and turned over to the officials of the State Hospital. Her case is a very sad one.

An International Incident

A HOLIDAY celebration that will long be remembered in the American navy is the "Santa Claus dinner" given in the wardroom of one of Uncle Sam's gunboats of the Venezuelan coast. The plan had been to have the affair on Christmas night, but as the vessel was then at sea the event was postponed until New Year's. It was on this occasion that an Italian battleship commander, with warlike intentions toward the United States and all their inhabitants, was beguiled into peaceful thoughts by good American punch, which the American officers dealt out to him in such quantities that he finally said he would like to settle in the western hemisphere.

It happened that the Italian's man-of-war and the Yankee gunboat arrived in southern waters at about the same time. There was the usual interchange of courtesies. Then occurred the incident that aroused the Italian captain's ire. A South American newspaper printed a cartoon representing him as being blown out of the water by the United States gunboat. In this, of course, there was no sense whatever, as Italy and this country were on the friendliest terms, but the foreign skipper, being both excitable and suspicious, took the matter to heart. The Americans heard that he even accused them of inspiring the cartoon and that he had complained to his home government.

New Year's day came due while the gossip was at its height. For weeks the wardroom officers of the gunboat had been making preparations for a grand feast. They decided at the last minute to invite the Italian and his staff as guests of honor.

A refusal, of course, was out of the question, but when the guests arrived their attitude was cold and distant, especially that of the captain, who looked as though he expected to be thrown into irons. It was said afterward that he had ordered his vessel to be ready for immediate action in case of treachery. At any rate, he sat down at dinner without a smile for his hosts, and for awhile things looked gloomy.

Gradually, however, the younger officers of the gunboat succeeded in fore-ing the visitors to partake of the punch, and with each glass the suspicious captain grew less suspicious. In an hour he was affable. In another hour he was affectionate. By the time the real celebration began, while the coffee was being served, he had forgotten the cartoon and was drinking healths to the stars and stripes every thirty seconds. When the ceremonies, which had been carefully arranged, had been in progress a few minutes he was proposing a joint expedition by his and the gunboat's crews against the Venezuelan capital.

Even if the incident of the Italian's conversion had been lacking, the dinner would have been an affair to be remembered. The first part of the closing celebration was the appearance of a Christmas tree, which of course should have been called a New Year's tree. It was a big tree, too, one that anybody might have envied, and the tars had made a trip ten miles inland to get it on the previous day. As it was borne into the wardroom it reached up into the dome-like window at the top. For this window, forming a sort of tower space to the wardroom, naval men have a technical name, but no landlubber could hope to get it right, so let it be called simply a window. The tree went all the way up, and from every branch there hung gifts for the merry diners.

Just as the New Year's tree was fastened into its place on the center of the table there appeared through the high window a real Santa Claus, with beard and furs and red coat of approved cut. Down the chimney-like opening he crawled, finally leaping upon the table with such force that half a dozen glasses went crashing to the floor. Amid the applause of the now hilarious party he proceeded to award the presents, calling each name in a gruff voice from beneath his white whiskers. When he came to the Italian captain he addressed him as "Your most powerful excellency Signor Captain," by which high sounding appellation the signor captain was so flattered that he bowed until his forehead bumped into what was left of a saucer of ice cream.—New York Times.

LEAK

Of Gas, Caused By a Full Pressure In the Stove, Asphyxiated the Two Jamestown (Ohio) Boys.

Dayton, O., Dec. 19.—Stanley Taylor and Paul Buckles, each aged 20 years of age, who were employed as apprentice printers in the office of the Morning Journal here, were asphyxiated at their rooming apartments, 311 West Fifth street.

Upon retiring at an early hour in the morning, they closed the windows and turned on the full pressure in a natural gas stove. This caused the flow to become greater than the capacity of the burner, and the surplus gas filled the room. Buckles had evidently attempted to turn off the gas, but was overcome in the effort.

Both young men were members of well-to-do families in Jamestown, O., Stanley Taylor being the son of ex-Mayor A. C. Taylor, of that city, and Paul Buckles, the son of a harness dealer.

The volume of business done by importers in New York city, according to the records in the office of the Collector of Customs, during 1906, will far exceed all previous records.

A Mere Babe.

"Ah, me," sighed young Kallow, with a lovelorn glance at the object of his affections. "I was so full of misery I tossed and turned upon my bed last night and could not sleep."

"You don't say?" remarked the heartless girl. "What's the matter with you—teething?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

Always After Him.

Sandy Pike—Did you ever follow de horses, par?

Gitty George—No; I always had as much as I could do to keep de horses from following me.

Sandy Pike—Race horses?

Gitty George—No, saw horses.—Chicago News.

Opportunity.

"What are you doing?" harshly demanded the brutal husband, abruptly entering the room.

"I'm just going to trim this forty-nine cent hat I bought yesterday," replied the trembling wife.

"Extravagant woman, you will ruin me with your everlasting bargain hunting!" he exclaimed, enraged, and, seizing the hat, he crumpled it in his hands, trampled it underfoot and, finally flinging it into the corner of the room, strode away.

Weeping, the wife stooped to pick up her insulted property, but her tear-stained face was irradiated by an ecstatic rapture as her eyes fell upon it. "Oh, that being the case," said the young man, "let's get married."

It is the exact shape of that forty dollar French hat I saw yesterday, and I never could have got it that way myself! All it needs is a couple of blue roses and a bunch of lavender buttercups.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Only Obstacle Removed.

The dear girl was entertaining the nine dollar per week clerk in the front parlor.

"For the last six weeks," she said, "I have lived on brown bread and water to improve my complexion."

"Indeed?" he exclaimed. "And how long do you expect to keep it up?"

"Oh, indefinitely," she replied.

"That being the case," said the young man, "let's get married."

MRS. GILMAN

Not to be Arraigned at Present, Although Her Condition is Improving in Jail.

Dayton, O., Dec. 19—Miss Marie Groveneshunanser stated that Dona Gilman had come to her room on several occasions complaining of ill treatment at home.

Detective Heintzmann claims that while in company with two or three gentlemen they were approached by a well known stenographer. They claim he feigned drunkenness and that previous to seeing them in a cafe he had shadowed them from Dr. Bonner's office down town.

It was generally rumored that Fayne Gilman would be taken into custody but Squire Wagner denied the report.

It was learned at the jail that Mrs. Gilman is better. Mrs. Gilman is served with three meals a day, and seems to relish food given her. She is attended by a nurse. Dr. Light, who helped at the post mortem on her daughter, attends her. Everybody is denied access to the woman, even her son, Collins.

Drs. Hahne, Bonners and Penny-witt testified that there was no evidence of criminal assault found on the body of Dona.

Mr. Matten asked him concerning the marks found on her body when Dr. Bonner asserted that they had nothing to do with the assault phase of the case. He claimed that such marks are sometimes regarded as feigned criminal assault.

Robert Keys was recalled and asked concerning times when he is alleged to have carried Dona to and from a piano stool or having fallen upon her in the yard. He denied having picked her up and carried her to or from the stool, and could not recollect of having played as indicated with her in the yard. Liza Adams was tangled up so badly she could not tell which way was north.

At the present rate it will be several days before the trial in Squire Wagner's court will be concluded. For the first time handcuffs were placed on Collins Gilman.

Mrs. Louise Somers was recalled and reiterated former statements and Mrs. Louis Sheehan who rode on the car home with Dona Gilman, told her story. Prof. Geo. Wogoman said Louise Gilman had called him up in the evening of November 21, and that the message was suddenly interrupted. Mr. Somers, Walter Oswald and Frank Anderson, colored, also testified, but to unimportant details. Attorney Lenz who, with Krehbiel, represented Curtis at his recent hearing, said:

"I understand that as soon as the hearing before Squire Wagner is concluded Curtis will be rearrested on the charge of having assaulted and murdered Dona Gilman, but that an effort will be made to show that he was responsible for the outrages which took place in the South Park district."

MUCH INTEREST IN COSHOCTON CASE

WILL DICKERSON BE TRIED IN COSHOCTON OR SENT TO A NEIGHBORING TOWN?

Full Text of Decision Rendered by Circuit Court in the Celebrated Murder Trial.

The Advocate's special dispatch from Coshocton Tuesday saying that Ben Dickerson had been granted a new trial by the Circuit Court was read with great interest in Newark as people here had closely followed the celebrated murder case.

The defense will try to secure a change of venue and if this should be granted the case will probably be sent to Newark, Mt. Vernon or Zanesville. The Advocate's dispatch gave in outline the reasons for granting the new trial. Following is the court's decision in the case:

"Without entering into discussion of the evidence in this case the court is unanimous in holding that the case would not be reversed on the weight of the evidence though it would not satisfy us beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was guilty as charged in the third count of the indictment.

"We find however that there was error in permitting the state, over an objection of the defendant, to ask the character witnesses on cross-examination if they would regard the defendant as a man of good character if they knew that he had done certain things. It was not error to ask them if they had heard certain specific charges which had been made against him, but it was error to ask what effect, as to the defendant's character, it would have had upon their judgment if they had heard or known of these specific things—see Hayes vs. Smith, 62 Ohio State 161. There was error in permitting witnesses to testify as to what Mrs. Hughes had said to them. There was error in giving the 5th and 10th, requests of the state in charge to the jury—the language as to deliberation and premeditation is right but there is an assumption in each of these requests that the accused killed Mrs. Hughes. As the jury did not find the defendant guilty of killing with deliberate and premeditated malice this error would not justify a reversal.

"The court was not clear in some of its rulings on the admission of evidence and as to what evidence was excluded. The letter written this day to the clerk giving instructions as to the entry to be made indicates the errors found for which the judgment is reversed and the case reversed."

Credit Currency Measure to Be Reported to the House.

BANKERS' IDEA IS ACCEPTED

Committee, However, Makes Several Changes of Importance—Congo Affair Called Up in the Senate. Roosevelt and Metcalf on the Japanese Situation.

Washington, Dec. 19.—A favorable report on a credit currency bill will be made by the house committee on banking and currency. The bill is but slightly different from the measure advocated by the American Bankers' association. Ten Republicans attended the committee meeting and all supported the measure agreed upon, while the four Democrats present opposed it. The Democrats in attendance were Representatives Glass of Virginia, Lewis of Georgia, Gillespie of Texas and Legare of South Carolina. In the bill desired by bankers it was provided that a tax of 2½ per centum should be paid by national banks on credit currency equal to 25 per centum of their capital. The committee increased the tax on such banknotes to 3 per centum. No change was made in the provision that national banks may also take out a fraction amount of national bank guarantee credit notes equal to 12½ per centum of its capital, with interest at the rate of 5 per centum.

Another change of importance made by the committee is one providing that national banking associations desiring to take out credit notes, and having notes outstanding in excess of 62½ per centum of their paid-up capital, may redeem such excess without reference to the limitation of $3,000,000 each month prescribed by the act of July 12, 1882. The bill as reported extends the privilege of issuing credit currency only to national banking institutions which have been in business for one year and have a surplus equal to 20 per centum of their capital. The national bank guaranteed credit notes authorized by the bill may be taken out for issue without a deposit of United States bonds, as now required by law. The notes will be of form and denominations designated by the comptroller of the currency.

Among bills passed by senate was one authorizing a government loan of $1,000,000 to the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition company and another providing for an investigation of the industrial, social, moral, educational and physical condition of woman and child workers in the United States by the department of commerce and labor. Senator Patterson in a resolution asked that the charges by a New York newspaper in relation to a lobby having been sent to the United States congress to influence senators concerning Congo Free State legislation be investigated by the senate committee on foreign relations.

MESSAGE ON JAPANESE.
President Roosevelt transmitted to congress Secretary Metcalf's report on the Japanese situation in San Francisco, accompanying it with recommendations of his own. The president says:

"The report deals with three matters of concern to the United States: first, the exclusion of the Japanese children from the San Francisco schools; second, the boycotting of Japanese restaurants, and third, acts of violence committed against the Japanese. As to the first matter, I call your especial attention to the very small number of Japanese children who attend school, to the testimony of their teachers, of their cleanliness and good behavior, and to the fact that, owing to their being scattered throughout the city, the requirement for them all to go to one special institution is impossible of fulfillment and means that they can not have school facilities.

Let me point out further that there would be no objection whatever to excluding from the schools any Japanese on account of age. It is obviously not desirable that young men should go to school with children. The only point is the exclusion of the children. The number of Japanese children attending the public schools in San Francisco is very small. The government has already directed that suit be brought to test the constitutionality of the act in question, but my very earnest hope is that such suit will not be necessary, and that, as a matter of comity, the citizens of San Francisco will refuse to deprive these young Japanese children of education and will permit them to go to the schools.

The question as to the violence against the Japanese is most admirably put by Secretary Metcalf, and I have nothing to add to his statement. I am entirely confident that, as Secretary Metcalf says, the overwhelming sentiment of the state of California is for law and order and for the protection of the Japanese in their property and to their every right. Both the chief of police and the acting mayor of San Francisco assured Secretary Metcalf that everything possible would be done to protect the Japanese in the city.

I authorized and directed Secretary Metcalf to state that if there was failure to protect persons and property, then the entire power of the federal government within the limits of the constitution would be used promptly and vigorously to enforce the observance of our treaty, which treaty guaranteed to Japanese residents everywhere in the Union full and perfect protection for their persons and property, and to this end every effort in my power would be done, and all the forces of the United States, both civil and military, which I could lawfully em-

DROPS $8,000 SUIT; GIVES WIDOW BACK $10,000 GEMS.

MRS. HELEN DWELL. PHOTO BY STANLEY.

New York, Dec. 19.—"Altho I am out something like $8,000 by the transaction, I feel that I have been let off pretty easy. There's no telling how much I might have lost. It was worth that amount to regain possession of the letters I wrote to Mrs. Dwell and to keep my affair from the public. The matter is dropped so far as I am concerned."

In these words Adolph J. Davis, a wealthy mine speculator, expressed his satisfaction with the outcome of the difficulties in which he was involved with Mrs. Helen Dwell, a dashing widow of Memphis, Tenn. The charge play, would be employed.

Observations of Metcalf, dealing with the school question, Secretary Metcalf attributes the exclusion resolutions adopted by the San Francisco school board May 6, 1905, and Oct. 11, 1906, in which provision is made for a separate school for orientals, to the influence of the Exclusion League, which claims to have over 78,000 members in California, three-fourths of them in San Francisco. The dry the resolutions went into effect there were 93 Japanese pupils in 23 schools, ranging in age from 7 to 20 years, 25 of them born in the United States. The report says:

"The oriental school, set apart for Chinese, Japanese and Korean children, is in the burned section. There is only one Japanese student attending this school at the present time, and there are no Japanese children attending any of the other public schools. I visited the oriental school in company with the Japanese consul, and found it to compare favorably with many of the new temporary structures erected in the city. The course of instruction is exactly the same as in the other public schools, and competent teachers are assigned for duty in this school. Nearly all the pupils attending this school have to be taught the English language."

Mr. Metcalf says that sentiment is very strong against Japanese young men attending primary schools, that the same objection would be made against American young men, and that the objection is reasonable. The press in San Francisco upholds the schoolboard. All political parties had platform planks in favor of Japanese and Korean exclusion, and the legislature March 7, 1905, adopted a resolution urging the restriction of Japanese immigration. Other evidences of anti-Japanese feeling are cited.

On the subject of boycott the report recites that there is a sentiment in the unions against patronizing Japanese restaurants but no formal action to that end. The report says: "As a matter of fact a most effective boycott was maintained against nearly all of the Japanese restaurants located in San Francisco for a period of at least three weeks. Pickets were stationed in front of these restaurants and every effort was made to prevent people from patronizing them. At times stones were thrown and windows broken, and in one or two instances the proprietors of the restaurants were struck by these stones."

The statements of several prominent Japanese are given and a number of instances of violence cited, provoked by racial hostility; that the assaults are condemned by all good citizens of California and the overwhelming sentiment is for law and order and protection of Japanese in person and property.

JAPS FEAR DISASTER

Honolulu, Dec. 19.—The Japanese consul here says that the visiting squadron which will arrive in Honolulu in February will not proceed to San Francisco, as originally intended, because a repetition of the Maine disaster is feared owing to the alleged overwrought condition of American feeling.

of larceny preferred against Davis by Mrs. Dwell on the ground that he had illegal possession of a $10,000 diamond necklace, was suddenly dropped. The gems were recovered by Mrs. Dwell and a suit for $8,000 representing money advanced by the broker for her trousseau was abandoned after the fair plaintiff had stated that she did not believe her erstwhile suitor had any criminal intent in holding the necklace.

Had the case not come to so timely an amicable settlement, it is possible Mr. Davis might have suffered physical discomfort as a result of his controversy with the Southern beauty.

SHOOTS FIVE MEN BUT FINALLY JAILED

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 19.—In a row near the postoffice of Blue Creek, George Goodwin, a Kentucky man, shot five men, one fatally. William Armstrong, whose lungs were perforated, will die. The other wounded are: John Cart, shot about the eyes; Mark Cart, shot in the right hand; Walter Cart shot in hip and shoulder; Laurie Kelly, shot in the arm. After a race with the sheriff, who shot at Goodwin six times, he was captured and brought to jail here. The row began over a trivial dispute between two of the men.

STRAUSS' DECISION.

Holds That a State Has Right to Induce Immigration.

Washington, Dec. 19.—An important decision has been rendered by Secretary Strauss of the department of commerce and labor as to the right of a state to induce immigration to that state. The decision holds, in brief, that in the circumstances there is no violation of the immigration laws or of the law to prohibit the importation of alien contract laborers in the action of the state of South Carolina in this particular case in encouraging immigration to that state, or in paying the necessary expenses of the immigrants in coming to the state.

TOWN OUT OF FULL

Topeka, Kan., Dec. 19.—The state board of railroad commissioners received the following telegram from Langdon, Reno county: "Town is out of fuel. Please take steps to have a supply sent here at once." Mr. Taylor at once appealed to the Rock Island railroad to send a trainload of coal to southwestern Kansas points at once.

EX-GOV. CAMPBELL LOCATES IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Dec. 19.—Former Governor James E. Campbell has gone to New York where he will close up his law office and arrange for the removal of his family to Columbus. He will live in the city while a member of the state's codifying commission. While governor, Mr. Campbell and his family were very prominent in social circles and their return to Columbus is hailed with pleasure.

The board is to meet on January 1, 1907, to organize. Judge Hiram G. Sibley of Marietta, the third member of the commission, will arrive in Columbus on New Year's eve and will meet with his associates, Campbell and Laylin.

THIEVES START BIG FIRE THAT DESTROYS A HOTEL AT MIDDLETOWN.

Man Cremated in His Room—Proprietor Bound and Gagged Saved by the Firemen.

Middletown, O., Dec. 19.—The Rommel House was practically destroyed by a fire which, it is said, was started to hide traces of robbery and possible murder. C. T. Powers, proprietor of the hotel, was found bound and gagged near the door of the furnace in the basement, and was saved from a horrible death by heroic work on the part of the firemen. Earl Albertson, a boarder, was cremated in his room on the second floor, and several other boarders had narrow escapes. It was while they were fighting the flames that firemen heard groans coming from the cellar. Headed by Chief Sebald, the men fought their way to the cellar and found Powers bound and gagged near the door of the furnace. Powers had been hit on the back of the head and rendered unconscious. He revived partially, but is only conscious at brief intervals, and his condition is critical. He mutters about two men grabbing him from behind his counter and of how one of them hit him on the head twice. He was then bound and gagged and removed to the cellar. Powers was known to have a large amount of money on his person and this, with his watch was taken from him.

FROM AMBUSH

United States Soldiers Fire at Trolley Car Conductor.

Pensacola, Fla., Dec. 19.—Charges have been preferred by a conductor of a train from Pensacola to Fort Barrancas alleging that soldiers at that post fired on his car from ambush. Officers of the post are investigating the trouble. The conductor avers that on leaving Pensacola for the fort, a distance of 10 miles, he had trouble with an artilleryman about his fare. On reaching Barrancas the soldiers, about 20 in number, alighted. The car stops 10 minutes at the fort before the return trip. The conductor avers that within a short distance from the post, on the return, a volley was fired at him. He was on the rear platform and alighted, returning the fire with his revolver. He says his assailants, whom he recognized as soldiers, then fled.

ACTRESS STOOD BEFORE A MIRROR

AND DELIBERATELY SHOT HERSELF TO DEATH IN COLUMBUS LAST NIGHT.

Jealousy and a Former Tragedy Bereft Mrs. Howard Powers of Her Reason.

Columbus, O., Dec. 19.—Believing her husband unfaithful to her, Mrs. Howard Powers, aged 30, an actress last night shot herself through the heart, at the Star hotel, and died instantly. On the stage she was known as Dolly Theobald, and she was the leading lady of the McFadden Flats company, now appearing at the High street theater, in this city. In the play she was a comedienne, but her career ended in tragedy, deep and grim enough for the most exacting. The deed was committed at 10 o'clock.

Standing before a mirror she directed the muzzle of a derringier pistol, of a heavy caliber, against her bosom, selecting the vital spot with cool deliberation. She was dead when the door was forced by those who heard the sound of the shot. During the afternoon she quarreled with her husband, who is the stage manager of the company, but as she was of a jealous tendency not much attention was paid to it.

Her fellow players say that there was no foundation for her jealousy, and they are disposed to the belief that she was mentally afflicted. Six years ago her mother and sister were destroyed by the explosion of a gasoline stove at Lexington, Ky., which was her home, and it is believed that this gradually broke down her reason. Her family is a good one, and her sister, Miss Laura Theobald, is head nurse at the Louisville (Ky.) Sanitarium. Her husband is prostrated by the terrible affair.

Both Asphyxiated.

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 19.—James Smith of Topeka and William S. Howley of Kansas City, iron molders, were found dead in a room at their boarding house, having been asphyxiated by gas which escaped from a heater.

STANDARD OIL GIVES TESTIMONY

New York, Dec. 19.—Proceedings brought by the state of Missouri to oust the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Republic Oil company from Missouri were resumed before Commissioner Robert A. Anthony. The hearing, which began in this city several months ago, had been adjourned to several cities, and was resumed here that the Standard Oil company might present testimony in rebuttal. Two witnesses were examined, J. A. Moffatt, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and Walter C. Teagle, who is connected with the export department of the Standard Oil company. By Mr. Moffatt the company attempted to show that there was no restraint on the oil trade and that the Republic and Waters-Pierce Oil companies were independent companies.

STONED BY MOB.

Man Who Shot Housekeeper and Self Now in the Hospital.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 19.—Angered because his housekeeper slapped his daughter, John Morello of Diamond, Ind., shot and killed the woman and then fatally wounded himself. While on the way to the station a mob almost succeeded in taking Morello from the officers. Morello sustained serious bruises from stones thrown by men in the crowd. He was brought to the hospital here. It was stated that he would die.

SUTTON DEFEATS HOPPE

New York, Dec. 19.—George Sutton still holds the world's championship at 18-2 balk line billiards, having successfully defended the title which he won from George Slosson a few months ago against the challenge of Willie Hoppe, who holds the world's championship at 18-1 game. The contest, which took place in the big hall of the Grand Central palace, was rather disappointing, as young Hoppe did not play up to the standard expected of him. The score: Sutton 500, Hoppe 253.

Senator Dick's Bill.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senator Dick introduced a bill providing for the equalization of the salaries of army and navy officers. It begins with cadets in the army and navy academies and the equalization of the allowances for clothing and continues after the graduation of officers and through the services.

Goshen's Big Fire.

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 19.—The most disastrous conflagration that has ever visited this city occurred when the new Jefferson block, built last year, covering a quarter of a square, was totally destroyed by fire. The loss will approximate $150,000. The building was occupied by a number of firms.

Strike of Seamen.

Rome, Dec. 19.—The general strike of seamen is causing considerable anxiety. At Genoa 25,000 emigrants are prevented from leaving for their destinations because of the trouble. The international federation of workers on sea and land transportation at Hamburg has promised to support the strike.

REBATES ON ICE SHIPMENTS

Toledo Corporation and Ann Arbor Railroad Are Indicted.

OVER 300 COUNTS RETURNED

Maximum Penalty Twenty Thousand Dollars on Each, and the Total Would Amount to Three Millions. Indictments Result of Special Hearing by Interstate Commission.

Toledo, O., Dec. 19.—When the United States grand jury made its report to Judge Tayler, it returned the largest list of indictments ever returned in federal court here. The indictments around which most of the interest centered were those against the Ann Arbor railway and the Toledo Ice and Coal company. These companies were indicted for giving and accepting rebates on ice shipments. The Toledo Ice and Coal company was indicted on 155 counts for receiving rebates on ice shipments. The Ann Arbor railway was indicted on a like number for granting rebates. The maximum penalty is $20,000 fine on each count. If convicted on all counts the fines would amount to $3,100,000 in both cases. Six indictments were returned against the Great Lakes Dock and Dredging company for violations of the federal eight-hour law.

The indictments against the Ann Arbor railway are the result of a special hearing held here by the interstate commerce commission last August. Complaints of discrimination of shippers in favor of certain companies by the railroads were filed at Washington, and Judson Clements, commissioner, was ordered to insert the probe into conditions in the northern federal district of Ohio. The result was that valuable evidence was secured which showed that the Ann Arbor railway had discriminated in favor of the Toledo Ice and Coal company on shipments of ice from the northern Michigan fields to this city.

Wellington R. Burt, former vice-president of the Ann Arbor, made the important admission that it was he who had conceived the formation of the Toledo Ice and Coal company; that the Toledo company's expenses, with the exception of the taxes, were paid by the railroad company, and that the company's ice houses were located on the property of the railroad.

MAN IS KILLED ON FIRST TRIP OUT

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 19.—Passenger train No. 82, northbound on the Atlantic Coast Line from Tampa, collided head-on with a southbound extra freight train near McGuff's Creek, seven miles from Jacksonville. One man was killed and three seriously injured. Dead: Claud Bailey, express helper, first trip out. The express, mail and baggage cars were telescoped and five coal cars were piled on them. The injured were brought to this city. Responsibility for the wreck has not yet been placed.

WHOLE TRAIN

Hurled Down a Precipice, a Number of Persons Being Killed.

Monterey, Mexico, Dec. 19.—News has been received here from Puebla, telling of a railroad wreck that occurred between that city and Tlaxcala. The accident was caused by the bolt of an engine falling on the track and causing the whole train to go down a precipice. The engineer and firemen were instantly killed. Some of the passengers, it is reported, were also killed, and others injured.

BRYCE THE MAN

London, Dec. 19.—Although it is stated in official quarters that the selection of an ambassador to Washington has not yet been quite settled, little doubt remains that James Bryce will be named for the post unless he positively vetoes his appointment. One of the Irish leaders in parliament, with whom Mr. Bryce was intimately associated while drafting the new Irish bill, said that the chances were a thousand to one that he would be appointed.

Theater Burns.

Patterson, N. J., Dec. 19.—Fire that originated in the Butler opera house destroyed that building, as well as the two adjoining structures, causing a loss of about $250,000.

Half-Million Starving.

Shanghai, Dec. 19.—The famine in Kiangsu is growing worse. According to reliable reports received here 500,000 destitute persons are encamped at Trunkansu and may have arrived at Hanking. The rebellion in Kiangsu has been crushed.

Mr. Arfur's Christmas Gift

By INA WRIGHT HANSON

(Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

HENRIETTA, on the rug by the fireplace, was absorbed in her occupation, which was putting off all of Ariminta Eudella's articles of wearing apparel and putting them on again. When the last tiny garment had been adjusted to her satisfaction she found time to look at Mr. Arfur, who sat by the window, a picture of dourness. With a regretful glance at Evangeline Bell, who was yet to be attended to, the small mother arose and went over to Mr. Arfur. Resting one hand on his knee, she gazed anxiously into his face.

The young man roused himself and smiled down at the squarely cut locks, the great brown eyes and dimples.

"Have you been bad, Mr. Arfur?" she inquired solicitously.

"I don't think I have been so bad as—the bad man, Henrietta," he answered, squeezing her small hand.

"I've been good as an angel," she remarked modestly, "so Santa Claus is going to bring me auver dolly in a tooting cab."

"In a what, Henrietta?"

"A tooting cab," she repeated; then, as Arthur failed to grasp her meaning, she exemplified patiently, "like Sister Wose's what she takes you riding in."

"Oh, I see! A tooting car, you aristocratic baby. No more doll wagons and go-carts for you, eh?" he chuckled, then grew gloomy again.

"What do you want for Christmas?"

"Something I am afraid I can never have in all this wide world, Henrietta. He drew a long breath.

"If you are good, Santa Claus?"

"It's entirely out of the old fellow's jurisdiction, my pet."

The child gazed at him curiously.

"It's a heart of fine gold that I want, Henrietta, and only one person can give it to me, and if she won't, grieve!"

"Is she a fairy?" Henrietta's tone was reverential, her eyes full of excitement.

"The queen of them all."

"And has a crown on?"

"Yes, a crown of her own golden hair, and her eyes are like brown velvet pansies, and she has the sweetest

"LISTEN!" HE WHISPERED.

red lips, Henrietta. But yesterday I met her, and she hurried by, scarcely speaking, and this morning on the street she pretended not to see me, though I know she did, and all because——you wouldn't have believed such a queen of a girl would care so much because she didn't get the prize at the masquerade, would you, now?"

"My!" ejaculated Henrietta. But her next eager question was cut short by Mr. Arfur's springing to his feet. "Sister Wose" had entered the room, and Henrietta, knowing from much experience that she was decidedly de trop when they two were together, went reluctantly back to Evangeline Bell and the fireplace.

"Good morning," said Sister Rose, her tone suggestive of a glare of ice and a flurry of snow. "I have an engagement." But she sat down.

"Oh, I am sorry. Then I will go," he said gently, but he also sat down.

In his eyes, honest and gray, was a complexity of expressions as he watched her trying desperately to appear very much at her ease. Love looked from his eyes—there was no doubt of that—and admiration and approval, and yet a growing wonder that, after all, his idol could be so human.

"I am sorry that you are angry," he began when the silence was getting tense. "Try to realize my position, Rose. I sat there, an unwilling judge—my duty awarding prizes to the best sustained characters in the masquerade. Among the maskers was one to whom my heart went out—a slender little figure whose white satin gown, caught loosely around the waist with a silken girdle, fell in straight folds to her tiny feet. Crowning her small head were chrysanthemums, maroon and gold, and a line of the royal flowers reached from one sweet, bare shoulder to the hem of her gown. The chrysanthemum girl was the loveliest sight in the room, but she was not the best sustained character, so!"

"I hope you don't think I care because you awarded the prize to Grace Hereford," interposed the girl scornfully, "and please don't for a minute think I am angry at anything. I am only disappointed in you." Her voice quivered a little.

"I have suspected the chrysanthemum girl of having moods," Arthur observed, looking at her reflectively. "A fellow I know has different names for her—Moonlight, White Rose, Laughing Water, Gentleness, Beauty, Wisdom. The fellow has admired her when she was gay and when she was serious, but never before has he seen her when she was unreasonable."

The chrysanthemum girl sniffed. "Will you kindly explain?" added Arthur.

"I had always been so proud of your strength of character," she began. "The first time I ever saw you was in a trolley car. You sat opposite me, and when the car turned the sun shone into your eyes. There was plenty of room on my side, where the sun wouldn't have annoyed you, but instead of changing your seat you got up and pulled down the curtain. I thought to myself, 'There is a man who will be master of circumstances, no matter what they are,' and—"

Rose stopped in confusion as she remembered other things she had thought about this finely formed, handsome young man.

"Go on," he said, leaning forward with great interest. "What else did you think?"

"And now to find out that you are nothing but a chameleon after all," she wailed.

"A what?" Arthur exclaimed in amazement.

"A chameleon," she repeated tearfully. "If you are on a brown leaf you're brown; if on a green tree then you're green."

"Well, green I acknowledge I am, for bless me if I can see what you are driving at."

"The other day when auntie was talking about the sin of wasting your time in dancing you said that you agreed with her that when there was work to do folks ought to do it. You said you were not going to the masquerade for that very reason."

"Well, I didn't intend!"

"You said you had several hours' work at the office that night. Then Grace Hereford came along and asked you to go, and you went!"

There was a flicker of amusement on Arthur's face which Rose did not see, being too busy winking back unwelcome tears.

"Miss Hereford had nothing to do with it, Rose," he said gently. "I went to work, as I said. About 9 o'clock Mr. Jones, the president, came in and said that if I could find Hassan and get his signature to a certain paper and get back by 11 o'clock he would make it worth my while. I had an idea that Hassan was managing that masquerade, and that's where I found him. He buttonholed me at once to be judge of the concern and wouldn't sign the paper unless I agreed. I saw I could get back by 11, so I stayed."

"And had plenty of time to dance with Miss Hereford," supplemented Rose sweetly, but unjudicially.

This time Arthur's smile was certain. "I looked for the chrysanthemum girl first and couldn't find her," he said truthfully. "I danced only once. But what made you think Miss Hereford asked me to go?"

"She said she would wager she could get you to go and that you would dance with her first, so I went to see if I didn't think you would when you said you wouldn't, but!"

"I see," said the young man quietly. An inborn loyalty to womanhood kept him from telling Rose that just as he had started away Miss Hereford had run to him, exclaiming that as he was so kind to award her the prize she certainly must reward him with the first dance, etc. With a sudden impulse he took Rose's little hand in his.

She sprang up and started for the fireplace, but he held her gently back. "Listen," he whispered.

On the glowing coals smoked Evangeline Bell, and on the rug, with eyes turned to the ceiling, knelt Henrietta.

"O God," she was saying, "now I lay me down to sleep. I give my precious dolly, so you will make the fairy queen win the crown of her golden hair to bring Mr. Arfur the little heart he wants for Christmas. That's all, God, only please let me see her when she comes. Amen."

"Amen!" echoed Arthur fervently.

"Grace Hereford has black hair," observed Rose inconsequently.

"She may have green hair for all it matters to me," said Arthur, with impoliteness. "Rose, darling!"

"I wonder if God will," Henrietta was murmuring, with sad eyes fixed on the mound of ashes which was once Evangeline Bell.

Rose went over to the fireplace and kissed her small sister. "I think God will," she said reverently; then she went back to radiant Mr. Arfur.

"Amen!" echoed Arthur fervently.

CARNEGIE ON WEALTH.

Steel King Would Impose Heavy Tax on Inheritances.

OPPOSES A LEVY ON INCOMES

He Would Make the Public Hear When Millionaire Dies—Says Riches Come From Community, and Most of It Should Be Returned—Indorses Gladstone's Sentiments on Tax That Makes a Nation of Liars.

Andrew Carnegie's view concerning the proper disposition of America's great fortunes attracted much attention at the recent meeting of the National Civic Federation in New York during a discussion of a national inheritance tax and an income tax.

He believed with Gladstone, he said, that an income tax made a nation of liars. Men were like bees. They should not be interfered with while making the honey.

"My experience is," said he, "that I would as soon leave a curse to my boy as to leave him the almighty dollar." The subject of wealth distribution, he said, would not down. It was now obviously strangely unequal, and the sooner we discovered a sane method of distribution the better.

As to the income tax he said: "There is no tax so pernicious, not only from an economic, but from a moral point of view, because it is a tax that requires the struggling young business man, fearful whether the bank directors will pass his note for $1,000 tomorrow, to explain all his private business to some man in the community who may himself be a bank director or who is connected with the banks. It penetrates business to the core, and the nation will never regret anything so much as attempting to collect a tax upon men engaged in business."

To illustrate his argument in favor of the inheritance tax Mr. Carnegie drew a word picture of a farmer who, many years ago, gave to one son a farm on Manhattan Island, which eventually became city property and enabled his descendants to live without effort. Another son had received a farm farther up in Harlem, and his children were obliged to continue doing something to "justify the world in supporting them." As the generations came along these children became millionaires through the growth of the city.

"Who made that wealth?" asked Mr. Carnegie. "The community, the population, the people. Then you tell me wealth is sacred. I say the community was the leading partner that made that wealth. I am not in favor of touching the bee when it is making the honey. Let the bee work. But when he passes away, then I say the silent partner, the community that made that wealth, should receive its dividend—a large portion."

"We will suppose there is another son. He settles in New York. He is a bright boy and he sees that railroads are essential to the future of this metropolis, and he embarks in the work. He consolidates these railroads. He is a useful man. He does the state some service. But he soon sees that, with the population growing, the traffic so increasing, he could pay dividends on his stock and issue more stock, and he goes on and on and buys up the stock, gets a large interest in it, and he becomes one of that class which no other nation has. He is indigenous to America. Now he dies. His family all become millionaires."

"Who made that wealth? If New York had remained a village, if the western states had not developed, if the people of the United States had not increased in population and by their labors become well doing and did not wish to visit New York, did not wish to buy things in New York to ship back and forth, he would not have been a millionaire. There, again, wealth flows from the community. I think society makes a huge mistake if it ever interferes with an organizing man in his lifetime. As a rule a millionaire is not an extravagant man himself. The man who has made money can usually be trusted to keep it."

"Take another man, another brother, who has settled in Pittsburgh. He sees that coking coal is there for smelting iron, and there [pointing to a man in the audience] is one of the men that did it very early in life, my partner, John Walker. Why, it was as plain as A B C that Pittsburgh was the place where you could make a ton of steel cheaper than anywhere else in the world, and that young man and other bright, intelligent young fellows went to Europe and saw what Great Britain was doing. Britain was always ahead in steel manufacture. They found a lack of raw materials, of everything, and they bought up every mines on Lake Superior."

"This country's demand for steel increased. Now, who made that growth? The growth of the American public. That is what that wealth came from. And that is the partner in every enterprise where money is made honorably. And I say these men, when the time comes when they must die and lie down with their fathers, community fails in its duty and our legislators fail in their duty if they do not exact a tremendous share, progressive share—no idea of ever making his children paupers, no idea of interfering with his right to leave them a competence, but it is the enormous sum, those millions, which should really have a different name from property. When a man was a man of property in the old days it meant he had enough for himself and family to live well enough on, but now we are under changed conditions."

THE climax of cigarette-value has been reached. Mecca Cigarettes stand unrivalled—they eclipse all former standards of value. You may be surprised at their size—at the large, plump, oval shape, so well-made in every particular.

CIGAR WAS LOADED

Sergeant-at-Arms Hull Had an Unpleasant Experience in City Hall Wednesday Morning.

Sergeant-at-Arms Charles Hull of the City Council was the victim of a joke Wednesday morning while enjoying his after breakfast cigar. He purchased the weed from a store near the city building, and was sitting near the big stove in the council chamber, dreaming of his army days, when there was a pyrotechnic display right under his nose. For a moment he thought he was in a fierce battle, but he soon dropped back to earth, and commenced an investigation.

He found that the cigar maker had concealed a stiff steel spring in the tobacco while making the cigar, and this was bound with a string in such a manner that it would be released when the fire reached the string. The result was that the cigar was torn into a thousand pieces and the fire was sent flying in all directions.

Fortunately only small bits of the fire struck Mr. Hull in the face, and no serious injury resulted. He reported the explosion to the store where he got the cigar, and was given a new one guaranteed not to be loaded.

A VICTORIOUS DEFEAT

"A Victorious Defeat," is the title of a new and powerful novel just issued by the Roxburgh Publishing Company. It is the story of a franchise, well illustrated and delightfully told by the author, Dr. Charles Frederick Gilliam, of Columbus, O. "A Victorious Defeat" is not only an unusually fascinating work of fiction, but one of the most valuable literary productions of the present decade; a forceful novel, combining love, politics, comedy and strong character portrayal. The average reader of light literature will find this remarkable book absorbingly interesting, while as an exposition of the rank methods resorted to by legal grafters who seek to secure valuable public franchises, it is of unprecedented worth to the student of political affairs.

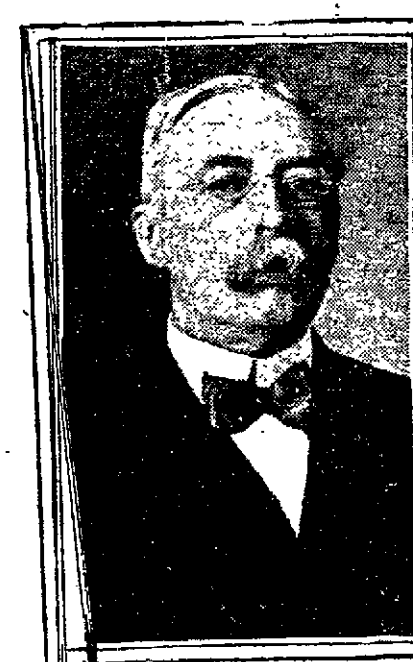

The narrative is exceptional to the general rule in fiction as it has for its nucleus a distinct and dominating issue which, in one form or another, is being actively contested in nearly every municipality.

Competent judges have pronounced the political portion of the work to be a true picture of municipal wire-pulling and skillful efforts of capitalistic power to debauch and defeat those who battle in behalf of the people.

CRUEL TREATMENT OF NEWARK HORSE

Pedestrians on the south-west corner of the square Wednesday morning were indignant over the treatment of a horse by its driver. The animal was smooth shod and of course experienced great difficulty in staying on its feet while being driven around the corners. At the point mentioned the horse slipped and fell heavily to the pavement. It was necessary to cut the harness in several places to release the horse and even then it could not get on its feet until a blanket had been spread over the ice.

It would not be a bad idea for the humane officers to go after the owners and drivers of horses who insist on driving the beast without having them rough shod while the streets are in an icy condition. Remarks were heard on all sides concerning the cruelty of the driver in the above instance and this is not the only case mentioned since the streets became icy a day or two ago.

FIFTEEN DOLLS FOR THE DAY NURSERY

Tuesday witnessed the advance arrival of a goodly share of Santa Claus' stock for The King's Daughters' Day Nursery when 15 beautiful and daintily dressed dolls arrived from The King's Daughters of North Lawrence, Ohio, to help fill the Christmas tree to be had by the little ones of the Nursery. As The King's Daughters expect about 40 nursery children for Christmas dinners and gifts, they were not slow in acknowledging the receipt of the present.

The nursery is progressing satisfactorily and now has 35 children in its industrial school, 12 regular little boarders and from 10 to 15 children during the day. Every effort is being exerted toward making their Christmas a happy one and it is believed that the desires of those in charge will be fully realized along this line because of the encouragement and interest that is being shown the institution now.

A NOVEL MODE.

Of a distinctively evening caste of character, this charming coat—an importation from the famous 'Beur' Place Vendome, Paris—presents some extremely novel features that are sure to be cleverly incorporated in garments of less formal intent later on in the season. The material of which it is in part composed is one of those novel satin cloths that present a surface of satin soiled of high and rich lustre, while the reverse side is of dull-finished broadcloth. The material thus presents the appearance of an ordinary satin of high quality, while possessing all of the weight and warmth of a broadcloth of arm weave and weighty texture, and so meets the double requirements of the mode that demands sheer and silky surfaces combined with warmth and weight suitable to winter weather. There is no seam whatsoever on the shoulder, front and back being just the full width of the cloth, seemingly flung at random over the figure, broad pleats serving to hold it into shape around the neck and at other points. There is a yoke of white satin to which those same pleats are attached, and this yoke also serves as a point to which the sleeves are sewn, the cloth being draped loosely to fall over this arm covering of tucked chiffon ruffled with narrow Valenciennes. All around the garment, bordering its every edge, there is a broad band of real Cluny with irregular edges, and this is in turn edged with a pale-blue velvet ribbon that accurately follows the hems of the coat all the way around.

SUPREME COURT ON ROUND TRIP TICKETS

One of the important decisions of the Supreme court Tuesday was that the Canton-Akron Railway company was not justified in maintaining an office for the sale of tickets in the village of Novarre and in Massillon and in refusing to sell tickets on the cars to passengers. For a round trip by ticket a fare of 15 cents was charged and for a trip one way by ticket 10 cents was the charge. This was the provision of the franchise and was adhered to when tickets were purchased, but when the passenger had not so provided himself the conductors refused to sell him tickets and it cost 10 cents to make the trip each way.

The Supreme court decided that tickets must be sold on the car.

STRENGTH COMES

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very vat for putrefaction, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, weakening the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to relieve this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act today and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50 cent size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Co., 67 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

JEWEL PRESENTED TO MR. WEISGERBER

Mr. E. L. Weisgerber, one of Newark's most prominent and highly respected citizens, has just returned from Wheeling, W. Va., having been summoned to appear before Ohio Lodge, No. 1, F. and A. M., on important business. Mr. Weisgerber, previous to coming to Newark from Wheeling, twenty-six years ago, was a member of Ohio Lodge of Masons, and has always retained his membership in the lodge. Mr. Weisgerber went down to Wheeling on Monday and Monday night attended the meeting of the lodge, which was largely attended. During the meeting the secretary of the lodge, Joseph Hall, who is a Past Master of the lodge, presented Mr. Weisgerber with a handsome Past Master's Jewell. Mr. Weisgerber was completely surprised, but managed to respond in a fitting manner. He is exceedingly proud of the jewel and of the lodge of which he is a member.

ORDINANCE

That Lifts the Lid Is Directly Opposed to a State Law, Says Superintendent Wheeler.

Columbus, Dec. 19.—"There is upon the statute books at the present time a law which forbids saloons in Cincinnati from being open between the hours of 12 and 6 o'clock a. m." was the statement of Superintendent Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League.

"Therefore it seems incredible that the city council should undertake to repeal or modify this statute by ordinance, as it has done in passing the rule that saloons shall be closed only between 1 and 5 a. m. Of course it may be said that the statute, which is to be found in Section 6,930-1, is unconstitutional, but until it has been declared so by the Supreme court it is the law of the land."

The act in question comes under the head of special legislation, applying only to cities of the first grade and the first class. These classifications were destroyed by the Supreme court in 1902 by the decision in the Cleveland and Toledo cases, which upset all the municipal charters in the state and caused the extraordinary session of the General Assembly and the enactment of the new municipal code. But as Superintendent Wheeler says, it has not been repealed save by implication.

BOYS' CONFERENCE

The third annual conference for boys will be held this year at Springfield, December 25th, 26th and 30th. Extra efforts are being taken this year to have as delegates the older boys, the boys of well established and well pronounced religious views. This is not only for the purpose of giving character to the convention, but also that through the boys with these qualifications the benefits which naturally come from such conferences can be carried to their fellow-members. It is an incalculable benefit for boys of this character to associate together for two or three days, and have the actual control and management of the convention.

Mr. Walter M. Wood of Chicago, has consented to deliver an address similar to the one he delivered at Lake Geneva last summer. Mr. R. Walter, Religious Work Director of New York City, will give rousing talks. But that part of the program which will be of the greatest benefit to the boys will be the papers prepared and read by the boys and discussed by the boys themselves. The boys at this conference will learn how to do things by doing them. The officers will be members of the Boys' Departments and the delegates will unquestionably receive renewed zeal for work. There is always enthusiasm in numbers. The local Y. M. C. A. Junior Department will be represented by three delegates—Riley Allen, Paul Sachs and George McElroy.

Granville, O., Dec. 19—One of the most delightful features of the term-end festivities is the opening of Kappa Phi's beautiful new chapter house to its friends, in a series of "At Homes". On Monday and Tuesday afternoon the young men of Denison were received; on Tuesday evening the new girls of Shepardson college; on Wednesday afternoon the ladies of the faculty, and this evening the families of the members. The patronesses at these functions were on Monday Mrs. R. S. Colwell and Mrs. G. F. McKibben; on Tuesday, Mrs. Burton Case and Mrs. B. I. Jones; on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Emory W. Hunt and Mrs. C. J. Rose; on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. G. S. Jones, Mrs. W. W. Neal of Newark, and Miss Harriet Baker. These occasions were characterized by charming simplicity, delightful cordiality, and a spirit of hospitality which made this first view of the new Sorority home memorable to all. The house itself is neat, attractive and beautifully complete in all its details, while too much can not be said in praise of the energy and efficiency of the young ladies who have so successfully planned and financed this important enterprise, in spite of obstacles and difficulties. Among those from out of town during the week, were Mrs. Percy Summers of Toledo, Mrs. Harry Colby of Dayton, Mrs. Agnes Walsh of Dayton, Miss Mary Wans of Zanesville, Miss Florence Parrish of Pittsburg, Misses Mary Neal, Myrtle Miller and Ida Moore of Newark.

Last evening in Recital hall the ladies of the Travellers' club gave one of the most delightful and instructive entertainments of the year in the form of a lecture-recital by Prof. A. L. Judson, dean of the Denison Conservatory. The lecture on the evolution of the violin gave evidence of careful research and was presented in a clear, concise and logical style, which was very pleasing, while the 60 lantern slides by which the lecture was illustrated lent additional interest to the remarks of this gifted young man. At the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. Judson proceeded to prove the unlimited power of this kind of instruments by the rendition of a program of characteristic violin music, in which he showed himself at his best, and the pleasure of the audience was manifested by hearty applause. Miss Kibler at the piano was, as always, a most delightful accompanist. Below is the program:

- 1.—Lecture on the evolution of the Violin, illustrated with sixty lantern slides made especially for this purpose.
- 2.—Program of characteristic violin music by Mr. Judson, Miss Kibler at the piano.

Serenade, Piere (French).
Romance, Svendsen (Swedish).
Gypsy Dances, Nachez (Spanish).
Larghetto (from Sonata in D), Nardini (Italian).
Sonata in F, Op. 24, Beethoven (German).
Allegro, Adagio molto espressivo.
Scherzo (allegro molto) Rondo (allegro ma non troppo).

On Tuesday evening the young men of Sigma Chi fraternity delightfully entertained at dinner, those present being Mrs. Percy Summers, Mrs. Henry Colby, Miss Stella Case, Miss Eleanor Chaffee and Miss Addie Tudor.

Mrs. A. D. Cole of Columbus, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Downer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Moore of Wheeling, W. Va., who have been visiting friends in and about Granville for a few days, have returned home.

Miss Lillie Mason of Steubenville, is visiting in the village for a few days.

Mrs. Ben Thomas who underwent an operation for her throat a few days ago, is reported as getting along finely and the indications are that she will make a rapid recovery.

Quite a number of the students are leaving for their homes to spend the Christmas holidays.

Lawrence Willard of Pittsburg, was in the village a short time Tuesday shaking hands with old friends.

The Phi Gams entertained most delightfully at dinner at the fraternity house the following young ladies: Misses Agnes Walsh of Dayton, Pearl Ferguson, Mary Evans, Laura Beiler, Mary Neal, Florence Parish and Dorothy Kibler.

The pupils of the Conservatory enjoyed a rare treat Tuesday afternoon when at half past two they were invited to listen to a program of unusual artistic merit, given in Recital hall by Mr. William Harper, the fine basso, who has returned to Granville after filling his Ohio engagements, and who kindly consented to sing, at Mr. Judson's request in this delightful informal way. His singing was a revelation and an inspiration, and his noble voice and magnetic presence were never more potent than before this small audience of real music lovers. Mrs. Wilson sang three numbers and was rapturously recalled; Miss Kibler, the brilliant young pianist, was enjoyed and applauded, and Mr. Judson, in two violin numbers, was, as always, a delight to his audience. Miss Farrar and Miss Benedict accompanied the singers.

The members of the Granville Methodist church are jubilant. For a long time a debt of $2400 has been hanging over the church and recently some of the most energetic members planned a big rally of all the members of the church to be held on Tuesday for the purpose of liquidating the indebtedness. It was also planned to give a big dinner. There were over two hundred members of the church and friends of the church in attendance at the rally and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. In a short time a little over $2100 was raised and pledges were given for the balance of the amount due.

Dinner served at 11 o'clock, and supper at 5 o'clock from now until after the holidays at Kuster & Company's. 18-3t

SILVER CUP FOR WRECK ON MIDWAY.

As a result of the wreck of the Mongolia, of the Pacific Mail line, on a reef at Midway Island, September 15, on her way from Yokohama to San Francisco, a silver cup will occupy a place of honor on the island. The American Pacific cable touches this lonely spot, whose only inhabitants are twenty employees of the cable company, and a company of United States marines.

This island is dangerous of approach at any time, and the Mongolia struck at 10 o'clock at night. The wrecked passengers were cared for by the cable staff, who did everything possible to make them comfortable.

To show their appreciation of the kindness extended to them the sailors passengers presented the staff with a silver cup.

RIGHT OF WAY FOR TROLLEY CO.

EVENTUALLY HIGHWAY WILL BE ABANDONED BETWEEN COLUMBUS AND NEWARK

For High Speed and High Power the Company Prefers to Own the Land It Occupies.

Now that the Indiana, Columbus & Eastern Traction company is practically through the details of its organization plans are being laid for extensive improvements on the system, says W. B. Jackson in Wednesday's Columbus Journal. Of these probably the most important locally will be those to be made on the Columbus, Newark & Zanesville. At present this line is largely built on the public highways and while this was all very well in the early days of the traction movement, it is unsatisfactory in these days of high power and fast cars. It is now proposed by the company to begin the purchase of a private right of way from Columbus to Newark, and while it may take several years to complete the plans, the road will ultimately have its own right of way from Columbus to Zanesville.

Improvements are also to be made between Columbus and Dayton which will cut off one hour of running time between the two cities. The London cut-off will be completed next summer and the Madison county town will cease to be on the main line of the traction road. Half an hour will be saved by this and the line will also be run directly through Springfield instead of running up to the Arcade and here another half hour will be cut off.

Improvements in Columbus are to be deferred awaiting action in regard to the kind of rail to be laid, but it is hoped to have this settled so work on the stations can be done the coming season.

AMUSEMENTS

MURRAY COMEDY CO.

The Murray Comedy company pleased a good house Tuesday night with the clever little comedy drama, "A Country Courtship," which is really one of the best plays ever given by the company in Newark. The principal characters of the play were taken with good effect by Dorothy Smith, C. Edwin Carruthers, F. E. Ellsworth and Julia York. The cat, dog and monkey act made another hit Tuesday night with some new tricks. Turkeys, big ones too, were won by Harry Jennings, Cary Waters and Charles Huse.

MONOLOGIST

Has No Snap Declares Press Eldridge of the Al G. Field Greater Minstrel Show.

According to Press Eldridge, "commander in chief of the Army of Fun" who is a big feature with the Al G. Field Greater Minstrels this season, the life of the monologue comedian is anything but pleasant drama.

"Some people have an idea that the life of the monologist is an easy one," says Eldridge, "but it isn't. Whoever a man has a quarrel with his wife or his partner in his sketch, the two split up and each tries to do a monologue. They think it is easy, but they soon find out their mistake. I'll bet there are twenty new monologues on the stage this year and not three of them are worth a cent."

"A man comes on the stage alone. He has nobody to help him. He is right on his nerve. Everybody is looking at him. He's got to be a laugh producer. If he is not, it's skidoo for him immediately; the American public won't put up with a poor monologue."

"A man in dialogue has someone with whom to talk, someone who feeds him with the stuff. A man in a drama or a sketch has a theme to develop. His entrance on the stage is announced long before he makes his appearance. The audience is ready for him and when he comes along he gets the applause. But the monologist has none of these things to help him. He depends upon himself alone."

"I had the honor of introducing black face comedy in Gaiety theater in London in 1891. It was at a benefit for Arthur Roberts, the great English comedian. I was greeted most cordially by Mr. Roberts at rehearsal. He seemed delighted that an American should appear at his benefit. I saw the stage manager and told him that I would come to the theater all ready to go on, as I was then playing another theater and had to rush over to the Gaiety when the time arrived for my little stunt."

"I hurriedly drove to the Gaiety in a cab and arrived just as Alice Atherton was finishing her act. I entered the stage door and there stood Roberts amazed at my appearance. He was very much excited and after an apology said 'Ah, my dear boy, you can't go at the Gaiety theater in black face; we have black face minstrels in the streets of London, you know, and it has never been permitted here my dear boy.' But you are too late now, I chimed in, 'there's my music playing,' and as he tried to step in front of me, I walked on the stage. Roberts stood in the wings wringing his hands. I held the attention of the audience for more than forty minutes, responding to several encores."

"When I made my final exit Mr. Roberts stepped over and congratulated me, his face wreathed in smiles. It was my turn then, and I said, 'Really, mah boy, don't stop me, I am due at another theater this very minute,' and rushed away. You can never tell how an act will go till you try it. Black face comedy and especially monologue work is very popular now in London theaters.

THE VIPER OF MILAN

New York, Dec. 19.—"The Viper of Milan" is a strong, vital story, shaped with pure air and rich in the fluctuating colors of the poet. The wonder is that such a structure should be built by a young woman, and yet women and men alike will fall under the spell of the story which is published by McClure, Phillips & Co. Miss Marjorie Bowen's name has come suddenly into prominence as the author of what is rapidly becoming the most popular and widely read novel of the year.

She was on the Continent when chair was nicely padded and made comfortable.

"I fixed him in his place and showed him how to watch for and avoid the drop scene, the great roller of which would descend guided by the steel cord drawn taut beside him. Least there should be any danger, through his unfamiliarity with the ways of the theater, I signalled the master carpenter to come to me, and cautioned him. 'Would it not be well,' I said 'if some one stood near here in case of accident?' It is all right sir, we have provided for that. The two best and steadiest men in the theater are here ready."

"I looked around and there they were—alert and watchful and there they remained all night. There was not going to be any chance of mishap to Mr. Gladstone that night."

some volume, which has recently been published by Walter Browne and P. A. Austin, who have established publishing offices in the annex of the Knickerbocker Theatre Building. They have not only produced a complete and reliable volume of biographical sketches of persons prominently connected with the American stage, but they have carried out their work in such an artistic style that the result is a book full of interesting facts and fit to grace any library or drawing room table.

The book, which contains hundreds of biographies set forth in interesting and readable form, is ten inches by seven in size, printed on heavy satin coated paper, in artistic type, with ornamental initial letters, and contains scores of fine half tone portraits. It is bound in rich dark green cloth, with gold lettering, and is practically an edition de luxe.

The originator of this novel work is Walter Browne, a well known writer.

ARE YOU FOOD WISE?

Do You Select With Care What You Eat—The Maximum of Strength For the Minimum of Cost?

The Following Will Be of Interest.

All scientists agree that the cereals are man's natural food, and that the nearer we live to nature the healthier and happier we are and the longer we may live.

To keep pace with the food requirements of the age is the constant study of those whose business it is to supply the same.

Cereal foods are the cheapest and best to eat and Hardyfood is the one that is selected by the food wise.

Hardyfood is made from the choicest selected grains and is prepared by new and original methods with rigid care and cleanliness.

Those portions of the grain which produce harmful results are discarded and only those elements needed for brain, nerve, bone and muscle-building are retained.

Hardyfood is especially beneficial to those with impaired digestion and is the only prepared food from which the excess of starch and glucose has been eliminated.

Hardyfood is so easily digested that it can be eaten by the aged, young people and the dyspeptic, and should be their principal meal every day.

A box of Hardyfood contains as much nutrition as five pounds of beef. Instead of starving if ill, live exclusively on Hardyfood for thirty days, avoiding all medicines, and you will get back into a healthy condition.

Too great a variety in food is the cause of much illness and discomfort. A simple diet is best.

the book was published. When she returned to London her first intimation that her work was attracting attention was the discovery of a too persistent journalist's visiting card, on which was scribbled a request that Miss Bowen would consent to be interviewed the same evening. Before this was a pile of correspondence of formidable dimensions, containing several begging letters, two or three offers from publishers for her next book and several from newspaper editors anxious for short stories. Miss Bowen is still under 20 years of age.

CARING FOR GLADSTONE.

New York, Dec. 19.—In his "Personal Reminiscences of Henry Irving," Mr. Bram Stoker described one of the great occasions at Irving's theater, when Gladstone came behind the scenes to watch the performance. The stage hands, he said, "seemed determined to make it a gala occasion. They had prepared the corner where he was wont to sit as though it were for royalty, and had rigged up a sort of canopy of crimson velvet so that neither dust nor draught should come to the old man. His

FOLLER IS DEAD OF BULLET WOUND

DELAWARE SALOONKEEPER IS SHOT BY E. ANTHONIE AND DIES OF INJURY.

Aged Mother of Dead Man Prostrated
by Tragedy—Extra Guards at Delaware Jail.

Delaware, O., Dec. 19.—George Foller, aged 45, single, the saloonkeeper who was shot in the abdomen late Saturday night by Edward Anthonie died at midnight of peritonitis. Earlier in the evening Anthonie was arraigned before the mayor on a charge of pointing firearms with intent to kill, and was held to the grand jury in the sum of $10,000. It is stated that the charge will now be changed.

Foller is survived by four brothers and his aged mother who is prostrated over the tragedy.

Bitter feeling had existed between Anthonie and his friends and the Foller brothers for some time.

It is alleged by Anthonie that Foller and his brother, Frank, who were standing in front of George Foller's saloon late Saturday night, called him to them and when he approached them they knocked him down. Anthonie then pulled his revolver and began shooting, fatally wounding George Foller and badly injuring Frank Foller.

It is stated that about a week previously Anthonie was given a severe beating by one of the Foller boys Tuesday night last 13 men were arrested for playing a gambling game in Foller's saloon, and Anthonie was charged with giving the police the tip.

An extra guard has been placed about the jail, as Foller's friends, it is alleged, have threatened to do him harm if they are given the opportunity.

LICKING COUNTY SOCIETY IS FORMED

(Communicated.)

Having recently returned from a visit to Belmont, Putnam county, T was requested to write a brief account of that fine growing country, which lies in the great Black Swamp belt. A quarter of a century ago, thousands of acres were in solid timber. Today scarcely any trees are standing, all the land now being fine farms. Land at that time could be bought from $20 to $25 per acre, but is now selling for $100 per acre, none less, some for more. Their wheat crop this year ran from 30 to 40 bushels per acre, corn from 60 to 80 bushels per acre. There are a great many Licking county people in and around Belmont, also in and around Leipsic, which is in the same township. For the first time they held a Licking county reunion gotten up by Frank E. Critchett, assisted by Wm. Donaldson, both Licking county men, the former a son of A. J. Critchett, merchant and undertaker, the latter a successful farmer. A great time was had, a social chat, talking over old time events, music, both vocal and instrumental, a fine oyster supper, a brief address by the writer and a lecture on the Serpent Mound Park in Adams county, and Fort Hill in Highland county, given from personal observations. Before the meeting broke up they organized a Licking county society to hold annual reunions, with Frank Critchett president. The next meeting will be held in August, 1907.
